Tippecanoe County Historical Association Launches Travelling Exhibit Program for Bicentennial Sponsored by the City of Lafayette

Lafayette, IN (January 30, 2025)—The Tippecanoe County Historical Association (TCHA) is excited to launch a new travelling exhibit program for the Bicentennial of Lafayette.

Sponsored by the City of Lafayette, ten travelling exhibit panels will showcase different stories in Lafayette’s history including the founding of Lafayette, Columbian Park and the Wabash and Erie Canal. Each panel is designed to stand alone or could be displayed together with any of the others. Organizations, including libraries, schools and businesses, may borrow one or more exhibit panels at a time for two weeks or more pending availability. Exhibit panels are available to borrow at no cost on a first-come, first-served basis.

“During our city's bicentennial year, we have a unique opportunity to celebrate Lafayette's rich history,” shares Mayor Tony Roswarski. “These pop-up displays from TCHA offer a fascinating glimpse into our past, and I encourage schools, libraries, and organizations to schedule them for their use. By sharing these stories, we not only honor our heritage, but inspire the next generation to carry our legacy forward.”

To learn more about the topics covered or request them to be exhibited at your organization, please contact Kelly Lippie, Curator of Collections, at 765-476-8411 ext. 3 or curator@tippecanoehistory.org.
